

Chicano/Latino Studies Graduate Studies Scholarships (Giving Day Funds)

UCI's Department of Chicano-Latino Studies awards up to $500 to defray the costs associated with applying to graduate school.

2020-2021

- Nicole Balbuena, Chicano/Latino Studies, Political Science & Sociology:

Applying for a Master of Social Work at University of California, Berkeley

- Joceline Porron, Chicano/Latino Studies & Public Health

Applying for a master's in public health with an emphasis in Sociocultural Diversity & Health at University of California, Irvine

- Monica Terrazas, Chicano/Latino Studies

Applying for a Certificate in College Counseling at California State University, Dominguez Hills

- Vanessa Nicole Torres, Chicano/Latino Studies

Applying to the Ph.D. program in History at Northeastern University, Boston

2021-2022

- Yessenia Camacho, Chicano/Latino Studies & Sociology

- Diego Castro, Chicano/Latino Studies & Political Science

- Citlali Franco, Chicano/Latino Studies & Psychology

- Melissa Molina, Chicano/Latino Studies, Political Science & Education

- Nadine Guadalupe Perez, Chicano/Latino Studies & Psychology

- Jacqueline Torres, Chicano/Latino Studies & Psychology

2023-2024

- Amy Olide, Chicano/Latino Studies, Political Science & Sociology:

Applying for a master's degree in public administration at California State University, Los Angeles

- Carlos Alberto Olivares, Chicano/Latino Studies

- Andrea Serrano, Chicano/Latino Studies, Psychological Sciences:

Applying for a master's degree in social Welfare at University of California, Los Angeles